

Hogan Design & Construction (HDC) Celebrating 20 Years of Community Collaboration and Remodeling, Renovation, and Home Building Excellence

Geneva, IL (April 30, 2020) – In April of 2000, Brian Hogan, owner of Hogan Design & Construction (HDC), had the vision to be more than a construction company and a desire to go beyond building. Hogan imagined a process that focused on building relationships and breaking free of industry norms and preconceived notions from which, expectations are understood, embraced, and eventually surpassed. This is the HDC foundation and formula for success.

Your needs above all else are more than a mantra at HDC. Providing residential and commercial clients with an innovative full-service remodeling and home builder solution is just the beginning of the proven HDC process, developed and honed over the past 20 years. The dedicated team of HDC designers, project managers, carpenters, and support staff are committed to delivering fully functional dream spaces, transforming homes and businesses alike with Design-Build and Selection Assisted Build services.

With the launch of a new website, award-winning project design, and quality craftsmanship, HDC has built a reputation based on integrity, dependability, and customer service excellence. Generosity and kindness describe the HDC company and community philosophy. Through sponsorships, charitable donations of time and talent, and activism, the HDC team contributes to their community, finding and at times, creating causes and collaborative cooperatives that improve the quality of life in their region. "I can't think of a better place or a better team as I look to the future of my business," said Brian Hogan, Owner, and Founder of Hogan Design & Construction (HDC). "I look forward to the next 20 years, to serving my community and industry with pride and admiration."

Established in 2000, Hogan Design & Construction's (HDC) proven process has been developed and honed since our inception 20 years ago. We have built a reputation based on our integrity, dependability, high-quality work, and excellent customer service & satisfaction. We don't just build spaces. We develop long-lasting relationships that deliver your dreams. For more information on HDC, please visit <http://www.hdcbuild.com>. Beyond Building.
